DISASTERS, &c.

Steamer Hibernia, knocked a hole in her bow, which was built over and the leak stopped in 12 hours. She was detained only 24 hours, and proceeded on her voyage 24 inst.
 Bremen barque Philadelphia, from Savannah 3 days, with a cargo of lumber, for Brazil, put into New York 7th inst, on account of her cargo being leaky.

Sch Southerner, fm Darien, Ga, for Baltimore, put into Charleston 4th inst, on account of the sickness of her crew.
 Sch Thos Jefferson, Willis, from Suffolk, Va, for Plymouth, put into Norfolk 5th inst, leaky.
 Sch Baltimore, Sleight, at Baltimore, passed, on Saturday last, ashore on Delaware Beach, a large ship, with white streak around her—supposed to be engaged in saving the ship's property.

Ship Swatara, ashore near Indian River, will, probably, not be got off. The last attempt to heave her afloat failed; and on the 7th inst she was lying on the Bar, having her bow and stern in deep water, and many of her midship timbers displaced and broken.
 Brig Columbus, Wademan, put into Pensacola about 24th ult, on account of sickness among the crew. She is owned at Portland, Me, and was 18 days from Hausacuco, Mexico, laden with mahogany, and bound to New York. Three of the crew having died, the captain was unable to navigate her. The captain and mate were sent to the hospital.

Ship Vandalia, (of Boston) Codman, from New York for Manila, put into Port Louis, (Isle of France) May 15th. Under date of June 5th, Capt Codman says:—I arrived here, she ship leaking 1000 strokes an hour. The cargo has probably sustained no material damage, and shall be obliged to wait a week for our turn to heave down. We touched on a reef previously unknown, bearing West of the Western South Naurus 1 miles. This caused a trifling leak, which would have been of no consequence but for the heavy weather we experienced after leavi g Java Head, and which so increased the leak that we were obliged reluctantly to bear up for this port.

Ship Henry Clay, though the steam pump had been in operation on board of her for twenty hours, the water abated but little, and on Saturday she had not floated, though I could not be determined whether she would float until the tide rose. The upper and second decks of beams were burnt out, and her stern entirely destroyed, with all the cargo between decks, and the lower floor and timbers, &c. on the leeward side of the vessel; the lower floor and timbers in the lower hold are supposed not to have been injured by the fire directly. The fire is supposed to have been accidentally communicated to the cotton on the dock by some newly arrived emigrants, a large number of whom we e seated upon the bars, smoking, as it was being taken in to the ship.

It is as combining the declining of the day with that of the year the period both of beauty and decay. becomes so generally the parent of ideas of a solemn and pathetic cast. Not only as in the first of these instances do we blend the Sunset of physical with that of Moral being but a further Source of Similitude is unavoidably suggested in the failure and decrepitude of the dying year a picture faithfully and in some points of view mournfully emblematic of the closing hours of human life. With the daily retirement of the Sun and the gradual approach of twilight though circumstances as we have seen often associated in our minds with the transitory tenure of Mortal existence there are usually connected so many objects of beauty & repose as to render such a scene in a high degree soothing and consolatory. but with the customary decline of light are now united the sighing of the coming storm the edging of the withered foliage for now the leaf

Oft startling such as studios walk Incessant rustles from the mournful grove. And slowly circles through the Another year its course has run

And all its scenes forever fled - Farms Almanack p. 43
The sun awakes & sets The world grows old And is renewed again The seasons flow Unchanging in their changes. thither My eager heart aspires and when this scene Fades round me and its passing flowrets wither There let me rest rewarded and serene

Wednesday January 1st of the year 1851 Wind NW Weather Fair

I've seen the Sun in glory rise And chase the mists away Yet ere he reached the midday Skies Clouds have obscured his ray

So human life may promise fair

Yet be obscured by mists of care
